

The Saving Habit

No matter who you are, where you are, or how old you are, it is your duty to save money.

Are you rich now? You may become poor if you don't save.

Are you poor? You may become rich if you save money and invest it wisely.

If you already have capital, economy will preserve it for your use in times of greater need. If you have none, you can acquire it by the same means.

Your whole mind need not be set continuously and exclusively upon the pursuit of wealth. There are other things in life as desirable as making money.

Nevertheless, it is right for you to be as careful of your expenditures as you can be without being miserly or close.

Youth is emphatically the time to begin to save, but it is never too late to start.

Indeed, the main object of saving in early life is not so much the actual amount saved, but it is the foundation of the habit of economy.

Loyalty.

When any part of an organization spends any part of its time criticizing and knocking the rest of the organization, the whole intent and purposes of that firm will suffer.—The Enthusiast.

Elijah Up to Date.

Little Benny was looking at a picture of Elijah going to heaven in a chariot of fire. Pointing to the halo about the prophet's head, Benny exclaimed: "See, mamma, he's carryin' an extra fire."

A Canary's Ears.

A canary's ears are at the back of and a little below its eyes. There is no outer ear such as animals have, but simply a small opening which is covered by feathers. It is quite surprising that birds should possess the very acute hearing which they do while lacking the fleshy flap which enables the animals to catch sounds.

MAKING KITCHEN BEAUTIFUL

Modern Idea is to Ornament That Long-Neglected Room and Make Cooking a Fine Art.

There is an idea that is growing and spreading in our twentieth century civilization with the prospect that it will eventually, like the yeast in the dough, leaven the whole social fabric. This idea is that the most commonplace things of life have an esthetic side to them; that all the uses in our complex civilization can be made and should be made to bloom into beautiful idealizations.

As, for instance, there's the kitchen! Even the art magazines in these days are giving more than passing attention to the ornamentation of the kitchen, and the professional houseplanner who does not plan an attractive, nay, a joy-inspiring cookery room for the seven-room cottage as well as for the 17-room mansion is a back number. Back in the grandmothers' days, and, very likely, before King Solomon was born, it was understood that cookery is one of the fine arts, observes the Baltimore American.

But for 6,000 years the artists in this soulful calling were obliged to work in rather dismal surroundings. Matters are changing wonderfully for those inspired ones who produce beautiful creations in soups, salads, roasts, tarts and jams.

The old idea was to treat bad cookery as a crime and blacklist the cook. The new and better idea is to treat good cookery as the beautiful and inspired thing that it really is. The kitchen beautiful—it is no longer an iridescent dream; it is a dream come true. Just glimpse at the blue and white enamel of the 1917 kitchen and give also an appraising look to the aluminum pans and kettles. Why, the modern kitchen is more radiant than the treasure room in an ancient palace. It is the temple of one of the fine arts, as it properly should be regarded.

A COME BACK

"I'm sorry now I didn't marry Jack instead of you."
"If you love him so much it ought to console you to think you've at least made him happy."

A GOOD WIFE.

"So poor Mandy is gone."
"Yes, yes, ma'am."
"She was a good wife to you, Sam."
"Yes, indeed, she was. I speak I'd a been turned out of house and home years ago if she hadn't worked all the time to keep the rent paid up."

SPEED OF A TORPEDO.

Long-range velocity of a submarine automobile torpedo (2,500 to 10,000 yards) is about 25 or less knots an hour; short-range velocity (up to 2,500 yards), as great as 50 knots. It strikes with sufficient force to drive in the firing pin, exploding the charge.

THE REASON.

"The feminine antimatrimony clubs generally come to grief."
"Of course, they do. Naturally, they are miss-managed."

THE ONLY WAY HE COULD DO IT.

"Do you save your money?"
"Mister, if I saved my money I'd have to cheat the grocer and the coal man."

OVER THE FENCE.

"What are you going to raise in your back yard this summer?"
"My neighbor's cats, if I can hit 'em hard enough."

NATURAL PROPENSITY.

"I saw somewhere that the onion breath is very fashionable."
"Then it must have made a strong impression."

Another Cavity.

"Mamma," said small Edgar, "when sister Nettie had the toothache you took her to the dentist and had her tooth filled, didn't you?" "Yes, Edgar," she replied. "Well," continued the small diplomat, "I've got the stomach-ache; don't you think you'd better take me to the candy store and get it filled?"

Elephant in Biblical Hebrew.

It is said by scholars that no word in Biblical Hebrew denotes an elephant, yet the Hebrews were familiar with ivory, and the skilled workmen of Hiram, king of Tyre, fashioned the great ivory throne of Solomon and overlaid it with pure gold.

Not a Business Child.

Uncle Elijah, with his eight-year-old, was soliciting alms, and with poor results. He had just been refused by a well-dressed lady, who explained that she had no change. "Don't yo' mind dat, ma'am," said Elijah; "jist give de bill to de chile heah an' she'll bring de change. She won't run away with it, lady. Pore chile, she ain't got no sense!"—Harper's Magazine.

For Sleeplessness.

Drink a cupful of hot cocoa, without sugar, just before retiring, and you will not be troubled with sleeplessness.

Truth Survives.

What is true cannot be made truer. The world may question it and attack it and "hawk at it and tear it," but it will survive. It makes no difference either how humble the source from which the truth may emanate. It is not a question of authority. If it is truth, it may come from a carpenter of Nazareth or from an attic in the Latin quarter; sooner or later all the world will accept it.—Lester F. Ward.

Raising Cotton in Garden.

Cotton seed started in the house and the plants set out in a sunny spot in the garden will bloom and perfect their cotton balls during the autumn. The plants are bushy, from two to three feet high. Flowers, green pods and cotton balls appear on the plants at the same time. Set the plants two feet apart and keep well cultivated.

Produce Infertile Eggs!

Infertile Eggs Keep Best and Market Best in Summer Heat

Fertile Eggs Spoil Quickly in Summer Weather

FERTILE EGGS COST THE FARMER AN ENORMOUS SUM EACH YEAR

Farmers lose millions of dollars annually from bad methods of producing and handling eggs. One-third of this loss is preventable, because it is due to the partial hatching of fertile eggs which have been allowed to become warm enough to begin to incubate.

The rooster makes the egg fertile

The fertile egg makes the blood ring

You can save the money now lost from blood rings by keeping the male bird from your flock after the hatching season is over.

The rooster does not help the hens to lay. He merely fertilizes the germ of the egg. The fertile germ in hot weather quickly becomes a blood ring, which spoils the egg for food and market. Summer heat has the same effect on fertile eggs as the hen or incubator.

INFERTILE EGGS WILL NOT BECOME BLOOD RINGS

After the hatching season cook, sell or pen your rooster. Your hens not running with a male bird will produce infertile eggs—quality eggs that keep best and market best.

Rules for Handling Eggs on the Farm—

Heat is the great enemy of eggs, both fertile and infertile. Farmers are urged to follow these simple rules, which cost nothing but time and thought and will add dollars to the poultry yard returns:

1. Keep the nests clean; provide one nest for every four hens.
2. Gather the eggs twice daily.
3. Keep the eggs in a cool, dry room or cellar.
4. Market the eggs at least twice a week.
5. Sell, kill, or confine all male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.
